B-Free: where ideas collide

B-Free furniture forms neighbourhoods within the workplace. Cubes, beams, screens, desks and tables create spaces where people easily connect and collaborate, and the collision of ideas becomes a natural part of the work day.

Does your workplace encourage innovation?

Creativity blossoms in less formal, more casual places where it's easy to connect and collaborate with others. These spaces help foster new ideas and connections, the root of innovation.

In many offices, informal spaces offer limited seating and provide little privacy or support for technology.

To foster innovation, offer a palette of places: spaces where anyone in the organisation can quickly find an ideal place for connecting with colleagues and impromptu collaboration.

A palette of place

Work today is fast paced. People need a range of places to support the variety of ways they work. Steelcase's Engagement and Global Workplace report found that as the ability to choose where to work within the office based on the task at hand increased, so did engagement. A change in work setting provides a fresh perspective, empowers employees and helps boost productivity.

B-Free offers a broad statement of line with a consistent aesthetic, making it easy to leverage space across the entire floorplan and create effective workspaces for individual concentration, connecting with colleagues and collaborating with others.

Concentrate

Changing posture boosts productivity and wellbeing, and so does B-Free, with spaces catering to work at stool or seated height supporting both short-and-long-term tasks. Screens provide a subtle barrier from distractions, while power outlets and a bag drop support technology and personal belongings.

Connect

Nearby informal spaces provide a welcome change during the work day. Create opportunities to meet informally in a comfortable, relaxed posture, in a private space that is yet still connected to the organisation.

The swivel cube makes connecting with others easier and creates dynamic informal spaces.

6 HOURS

In a 24/7 world, the average person needs six hours of social interaction daily. Such connections increase wellbeing and minimise stress.

Collaborate

B-Free creates an authentic and informal atmosphere where teamwork comes naturally and collaboration flourishes. Workers have equal access to tools, displays and digital/analogue information. Plus, it is easy to reconfigure components as work needs change.

B-Free beam encourages a change in postures — from sitting to perching — and promotes movement to better engage in conversations.
