Meaningful Versatility

Purposeful work deserves meaningful places that blend design, use of materials and performance — how a space performs is just as critical as how it looks and feels.

STATE OF WORK: BLUR THE EDGES

A 2017 Gallup report revealed the most engaged employees spend 60 to 80 percent of their time working away from the office. People at work report a lack of collaboration spaces to help them be creative, frequent noise disruptions while working and an inability to effectively communicate creative ideas to coworkers.
